

Links for the HFP to the course

- We have used the fast feedback cycle in a very efficient manner by getting customer notes and doing the appropriate changes deserved.
- we have tried providing help and guidance in the places we can and made sure the customer understands the flow of the site.
- we have used metaphors to represent the home, help, notification and log out.
- We have mapped the site in such a way the navigation is as simple as possible
- We have also made the site similar to UR-courses to make it as discoverable as possible.
